What is an Estate or Probate Record?

The word probate comes from Latin and means “to prove”; in this case to prove in court the authenticity of a last will and testament of someone who has died. In the absence of a will, inheritance laws have provided for the passing on of property, belongings, and assets. A probate record may be one page or several hundreds of pages.

If you can't find a probate record for your ancestor, it may be because 1) the person did not own enough to have his/her estate probated, 2) the person may have lived in another county, 3) the person was a wife and everything just passed along to the husband without court records, or 4) the name was not indexed correctly. Probate records could include the following: will, proof of will, estate inventory, liquidation of estate, proof of heirs, letter of testimony, receipts, final estate disposition, proof of death, proof of publication, and more.

Note: The information above and the adjacent legend are taken from the 2003 edition of the Probate Index.

The 1825-1922 index is only a partial index of what is available at the Peoria County Circuit Clerk's office. A printed index for wills and probates is available for 1825-1963 at the Circuit Clerk's office. Just ask for it at the desk, but you must know the year of death for your person. To find probates after 1963, you need to ask a clerk as they are in the computer and not available for the public currently.

Peoria County Circuit Court Archives

Court Records for probate, divorce, adoption, and criminal cases, civil cases, and naturalization (1906 or before) are kept by the Peoria County Circuit Clerk Archive.

To find a probate record between 1825-1922, requesters must submit a case number with their record request. If the request does not include the case number, the archive manager will be unable to do the lookup. Requesters can use this probate index compiled by PCGS to find the case number and then submit to the Circuit Clerk Archive Manager by email or phone.

As of 2025, the Circuit Clerk Archive Manager is: Victor Palazzolo
<vpalazzolo@peoriacounty.gov> Phone: +1-309-672-6024.

Alternatively, you can go in-person to the Peoria County Circuit Courthouse, 324 Main St, G22, Peoria, IL 61602, and look at the index books (1825-1970s) to get the case number.

There is a fee for copying records which can be downloaded via email.
If you want the documents mailed to you, there is an additional fee of $10.
